

Newsletter

New Accreditation

Vanilla has successfully achieved aerospace accreditation, through the BSi, certification to EN9100:2018 and EN9120:2018.

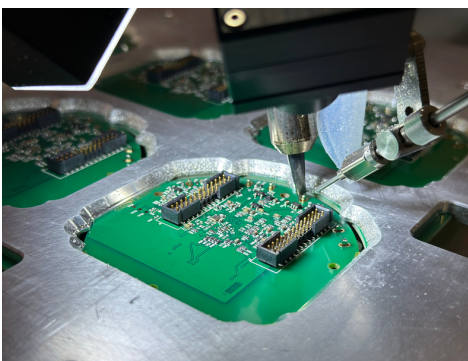

This effectively now means that Vanilla can now also sell into the aerospace industry which requires these standards. Massive congratulations to all those involved for all their dedication and hard work. Flying high.

Equipment

Three brand spanking new robotic soldering machines have arrived at Vanilla in a joint venture with Interconics. Both businesses are part of the Techpoint Group, along with Golledge Electronics Ltd Electronics and Bela Electronics Designs.

Gary Wearing COO at Techpoint says " This is a brand new venture and demonstrates the value of what can be done by working together more closely and aligning the businesses to create maximum synergy for the Group, as well as having customer benefits too". " Expect to see more of this from Techpoint - we believe in 'together'."

vanilla

TECHPOINT

sales@vanillaelectronics.com

Together...we do more